

ATRIUM

The Atrium is the centerpiece of the event areas that were constructed in 2004 at the Olympiastadion Berlin. The Atrium stretches over four levels that can either be used individually or as one large event area. Altogether, the Atrium can cater for up to 1,700 guests spread over 3,000 square meters.

Entering the historic, listed stadium, one would not expect to find the open, modern event rooms that the Atrium has to offer.

In short: The Atrium is the most flexible answer to conventional congress and convention centers.
